

True Colours Live Show

Ignite Energy Into Your Conference

Successful People See Communication Skills as Critical to Their Success

True Colours keynotes address much more than a speech led by your standard professional speaker. Our interactive shows will energise your people and have everyone working together in a way you never thought possible.

The dynamic theatrical keynote presentations will have everyone laughing as they recognise themselves and others through character traits and improvisation scenes.

Our highly acclaimed actors will entertain, educate and touch the hearts of your audience as they portray easily recognisable characters that everyone can relate to and connect with.

You will agree that understanding peoples internal drivers and motivations will provide a platform of excellence, enhancing sales results, team skills and leadership qualities.

The show can be specifically tailored to meet your organisation's objectives and customised to your audience using powerful learning tools that can be implemented in the workplace.

Our Message Lasts A Lifetime

Your True Colours Show can be backed up with online learning, workshops and published materials, developing your people to excel in communications by a practical yet simple understanding the fundamental dynamics of human behaviour.

A High Return On Investment

A flawless communications model used by some of the worlds most respected companies from Australian Government to Google.

What Our Clients Say About True Colours:

"True Colours provides people with a crystal clear platform on why people do what they do, ideal for sale professionals whose task is to understand the values and drivers of their clients." Insight Ltd

"True Colours scored highly in all categories, the results were outstanding and the content allowed our advisors to use the materials back in the workplace." Total Financial Solutions

"One of the best keynotes that I have seen in action, providing a deep understanding of people and how they behave. A great R.O.I!" Ray Scicluna, Video Ezy

"In just 90 minutes people had a deeper understanding of what makes them and others tick, as well as what tick them off, amazingly fast, accurate and straightforward tool." Ronald McDonald House

"People were really connecting with each other and the feeling in the room was electric. Powerful and highly effective." American Chamber of Commerce NSW Chapter

For more information email: info@truecoloursgroup.com or CALL 1300 73 11 19